

Quotes from Key Spokespersons

Mr Lim Hock Chuan,
Chief Executive,
Temasek Foundation
Connects

“Temasek Foundation hopes that deeper connections and cross-sector partnerships can be forged at SICW, to strengthen capabilities and resilience in maintaining the cyber safety of not just organisations and countries, but also individuals and businesses.”

Mr Lee Fook Sun,
Chairman of Ensign
InfoSecurity

“Trust and confidence underpin cybersecurity. They are also the bedrock of Ensign’s relationships with our customers and partners. We will continue to develop our capabilities to keep their trust, as we lead them to conquer the unknown in a digitally transforming world. A strong cyber defence is the bedrock for transformation and growth of Singapore and its businesses in a digital economy. What many businesses and cybersecurity leaders are realising today in building cyber resilient organisations is that no one can do it alone. This is core to Ensign’s belief in growing our reach and capabilities through global partnerships, as well as being a trusted and long-term pure-play cybersecurity partner with a DNA that’s completely aligned to securing the cyberspace of Enterprises, Sectors and Nations. We look forward to meeting with partners and customers during SICW to define new priorities in protecting our digital economies.”

Mr David Koh, Chief Executive, Cyber Security Agency of Singapore (CSA)

“We are honoured to once again welcome foreign and local dignitaries, cybersecurity thought leaders, industry experts and innovators to SICW 2019. Cybersecurity continues to gain prominence on the global security agenda, but at the same time, it also offers opportunities for economies to grow. We are excited to be a platform to bring the cybersecurity community together to exchange insights and discuss ways to tackle challenges in the ever-evolving cyberspace, as well as grow the industry through collaboration and innovation.”